1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) content was determined using a spectrophotometer (Shimadzu UV-1601) at 663 nm. The concentration of Chl a was calculated using the following equation: $\text{Chl } a \text{ (mg/L)} = 12.7 \times \text{OD}_{663}$.

Poverty, inequality and social reform

By Clayton K. Murrell

THE NEW YORK TIMES has been known for its bold and innovative journalism. In 1964, the paper published a series of articles by James O. Easton, a young reporter from the University of Chicago, who wrote about the conditions of the poor in the inner city. The articles were groundbreaking and led to a new focus on social issues in the newspaper.

Parks office ad set for holiday visitors

By Mike Colton

The city of San Jose is preparing for the holiday season with a new advertisement for the Parks and Recreation Department. The ad, which is set to be displayed in the city's parks and recreation areas, features a festive design with a red and white color scheme. The ad is intended to promote the city's parks and recreation programs to visitors during the holiday season.

44 dead in Syria bombings

At least 44 people were killed and more than 100 injured in a series of bombings in Syria, according to a statement from the Syrian Arab Republic's health ministry.

The bombings took place in the town of Idlib, in the northwestern part of the country. The health ministry said that 44 people were killed, including 15 children and 10 women. More than 100 people were injured, some of whom are in critical condition. The ministry also said that the bombings were carried out by "terrorist groups" and that the Syrian government is working to bring them to justice.

Pakistan military denies conspiracy to seize power

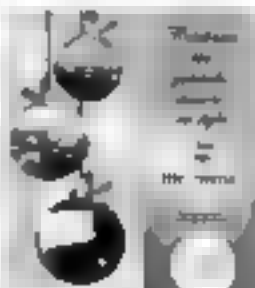

The Pakistani military has denied reports that it is plotting to overthrow the civilian government and seize power. A senior military official said that the reports are "baseless" and that the military is committed to supporting the elected government.

In U.S. to the season to shoplift the $1 B-B

A report from the U.S. Department of Justice says that shoplifting has increased significantly in the United States during the holiday season. The report says that the increase is due to a combination of factors, including the high volume of shopping and the presence of large crowds in retail stores.

THIS WEEK'S NOTES

Profile of some lantern makers in 'Sampernandu'

By Thomas George

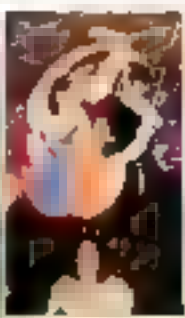

Children with a passion for lanterns, lantern makers in Sampernandu, a village in the northern part of the island, are making a name for themselves. The village is known for its traditional lanterns, which are made from bamboo and paper. The lanterns are used for decoration and for lighting during festivals and religious events. The makers of these lanterns are mostly women, who have passed down their skills from generation to generation. The lanterns are made in a traditional way, using natural materials and techniques. The makers of these lanterns are proud of their craft and are happy to share it with others. The lanterns are a symbol of the village's heritage and are a source of pride for its people.

Environment in the tradition of National Artists

Envisioning Highland,

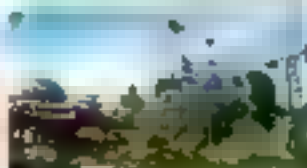

Green and healthy living with nature at its best

Be inspired by the design of nature in the lush, contemporary interior where human well-being is at the heart of the design. Miffed actor walks out on promo event

By the Associated Press

Actor Rhys Ifans walked out of a promotional event for the TV show "The Mindy Project" on Monday. The actor, who plays the character of David, was reportedly upset with the show's producers. He was seen leaving the event in a huff, and his departure was widely reported. The show's producers claimed that Ifans was being difficult and that he was not taking his role seriously. They said that they had to remove him from the event to avoid any further disruption. The incident has caused a stir in the entertainment industry, with many people wondering what the real story is. It is unclear if Ifans will return to the show or if his departure will have any long-term consequences.

Rhys Ifans

The actor's departure from the event was a surprise to many people. It was a rare public display of an actor's frustration. The incident has raised questions about the relationship between actors and producers. It is a reminder that the entertainment industry is not always as glamorous as it seems. There are many challenges and conflicts behind the scenes. The incident with Rhys Ifans is just one example of the tensions that can exist in the industry. It is a story that is sure to be talked about for some time.
